DR. CLOYD HECK MARVIN
President of the University

"That our mutual task has been a fruitful one has been testified by the growth of the University's material resources, the increase of its educational offerings, and the gain in spiritual character." Dr. Cloyd Heck Marvin, president, The George Washington University.

ACTIVITIES . . . Development Thru Group Association

● FORMER HATCHET editors: don't let this picture mislead you. When the editors of the '47-'48 Hatchet were photographed, it was a special assignment and not during one of the frenzied sessions when the weekly newspaper is put to bed. The Cherry Tree continues to publish a yearly record of the graduating class, the Mecheleciv gives news of the School of Engineering, and the Surveyor, a new literary magazine, will make its debut this fall.

● THE UNIVERSITY BAND, under the direction of Leon Brusiloff, plays for athletic events, student gatherings and official functions. Like the Glee Club, which continues under the direction of Dr. Robert Howe Harmon, the band give concerts in Lisner Auditorium throughout the year.

● DANCE AND THEATER interest many students. The dance groups present a concert each year and assist the University Players in their productions. The Players offer students interested in the theater an opportunity to work both before the footlights and backstage.

● "A UNIVERSITY WITHIN A UNIVERSITY"—President Marvin has described the education committee of the Veterans Club, one of the first groups of World War II veterans to organize on a university campus. Joseph Sanborn, chairman of the committee, keeps a file of tutors who donate their time. He signs up two students in the clubhouse at 722 22nd st. nw.

● ONE OF THE main activities of the Student Council this fall was conducting a successful orientation program for freshmen and transfer students. The Council, elected by the student body, co-ordinates the activities of all the student organizations on campus, does much educational and charity work, and sponsors several social events during the year.

"THE FACULTY . . . Friend and Counsellor"

● BERNARD BARUCH isn't the only man in the Nation's Capital who uses a park bench when discussing the problems of the world. University registrar B. H. Jarman, when not straightening out registration red tape, frequently talks informally with students on the yard. Chatting with him here are Theodora Gemza, 21 year old veteran of Danbury, Conn., and Jerry Anderson, of Washington, D. C.

● DEAN MITCHELL DREESE, director of veterans education, helps the returned service personnel adjust to the academic way of life. Here he explains a form to Ager Jaicks, of Forest Park, Ill., one of approximately 7,000 veterans on campus.

Sports Review

● DON DRUCKENMILLER, center on the football team, is also a varsity baseball player.

The Colonials have played six games against the Cavaliers since 1897, and for the first time since then scored against the Virginians September 27, Virginia was the victor, 33-13.

● IN THESE days of rugged individualism, the girls are going in for games that only the men once played. Almost daily University coeds take a fling at the old shin-barking game of soccer on a field near the Lincoln Memorial.

● Phil McNiff varsity basketball player.
